

CASE STUDY: Insurance Services Company

Health Coaching Expenses Cut by 30% While Participation Increased by 67%

AVIDON HEALTH

The Challenge

An insurance services company offered tailored solutions and full-service wellness programs, including health coaching, to their clients. They needed to maintain a high-quality personalized coaching experience for participants while reducing the administrative burden and expenses of the coaching program.

They wanted a solution that is:

Scalable: The company wanted to reduce cost but maintain or grow coaching program participation levels.

Engaging: The company serves a diverse group of individuals with unique health and wellness needs. The company needed to streamline processes while improving participant engagement and satisfaction.

The Solution

The insurance services company switched to a wellness coaching program managed by Aidon Health and powered by the Aidon digital coaching platform, to improve engagement and program adherence.

While using

99.5%

of members stated they would recommend their health coach to a friend or family member.

To learn more about what Aidon Health can do for your wellness program, let's talk.

CASE STUDY: Insurance Services Company

AVIDON HEALTH

How it Works

With Avidon, coaches can automate many time-consuming processes including onboarding, communications and appointment booking. They can also leverage an extensive library of wellness content to send to participants and create individualized experiences that help disrupt chronic conditions and break unhealthy habits.

PREVIOUS

In-house coaching staff resources

30% MORE COST

1700

COACHING SESSIONS DELIVERED

CURRENT

One full-time coach

30% LESS COST

2849

COACHING SESSIONS DELIVERED

"We switched to Avidon for the health coaching component of our client wellness programming at the beginning of 2021 and the impact has been significant. Costs for the coaching went down by almost 30% while the number of coaching sessions delivered increased more than 60%. Avidon is easy to work with, and coaching participant satisfaction is excellent: more than 99% of anonymous survey respondents said they would recommend their health coach to a friend or family member."

– Danielle, Sr. Wellness Consultant, Insurance Company

Outcomes

Nearly 90% of the company's benefit participants stated that the health coaching was very much central to achieving at least one of their health goals.

"My coach helped me identify and achieve health goals I would not have been able to define or reach on my own. She taught me how to define larger goals, break them down into doable pieces, identify potential obstacles, and stay motivated even when I slip." – Coaching participant

The Avidon-powered coaching program helped drive positive health outcomes with eight in 10 program participants saying that coaching increased their confidence in achieving their health and wellness goals. All while saving the benefit organization tens of thousands of dollars in administration and operational costs.

To learn more about what Avidon Health can do for your wellness program, let's talk.